Stanfield is a graduate of the University of South Alabama's creative writing program. He describes this first effort as a "post-modern hard-boiled detective novel set in north Alabama."

It begins, "I didn't expect any clients that late on Friday. Too much was going on around town, and, to be honest, business hadn't been very good lately. It was a lazy afternoon. All my work was done, and I had a nice whiskey buzz to greet the lonely weekend."

A tough, gritty and earthy tale not for the fainthearted. Copies may be ordered online at www.iuniverse.com.
